

Poison Dart Frogs

by Karen Cox

Poison dart frogs live in tropical rainforests.

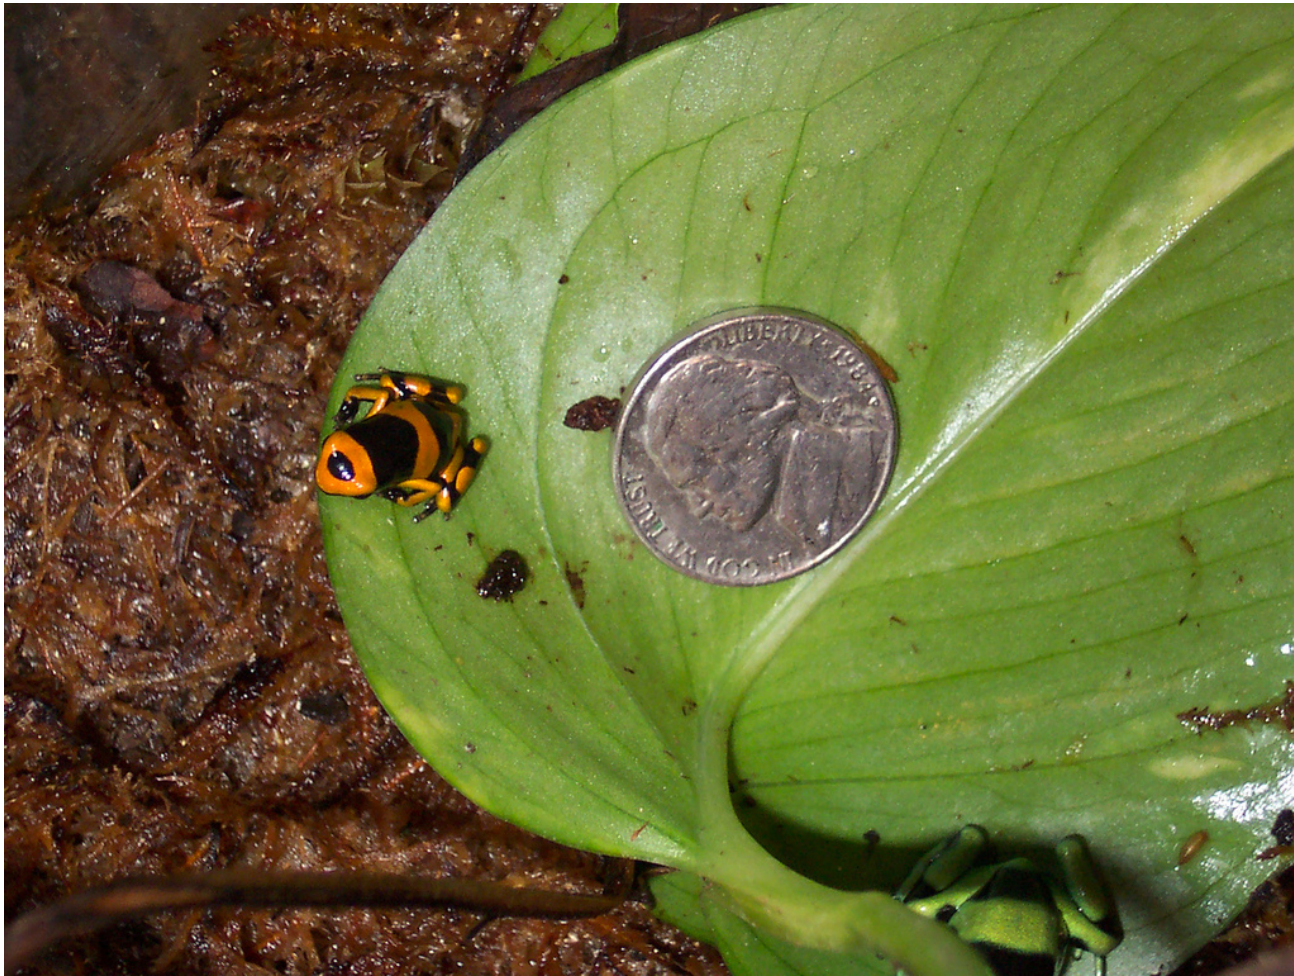

Poison dart frogs live near the ground or in trees.

Poison dart frogs eat small insects and spiders.

Poison dart frogs are very small (1-6 cm).

Poison dart frogs have brightly colored skin to scare away their predators.

Poison dart frogs have poison on their skin. Natives use the poison in blow darts.

Photography Credits

These photos are under a Creative Commons license

- Alex Telford, Flickr.com/people/27500829@N07 (title page)
- Danny Barron, Flickr.com/people/dbarronoss (title page)
- Rachel Rusinski, Flickr.com/people/rachelrusinski (page 2)
- Adriano Spiccia, Flickr.com/people/herba (page 3)
- Olivier Lajuzan, Flickr.com/people/ooboble (page 4)
- B. Smith, Flickr.com/people/bsmith4815 (page 5)
- Valerie Abbott, Flickr.com/people/ucumari (page 6)
- Jerry Oldenettel, Flickr.com/people/jroldenettel (page 7)